This week Bubble 5 have been very busy learning about the lifecycle of a bee. We can explain the process a bee goes through from egg to adult bee and the processes involved. We have had the opportunity to be very creative and painted beehives as well as making our own bees out of clay. Bubble 5 are looking forward to painting their bees next week and continuing their learning.

A photograph showing six hand-drawn paper bees arranged on a light-colored wooden surface. Each bee is made from a white paper cutout with a yellow body covered in small dots, a brown arched entrance at the bottom, and small wings and antennae. The bees are decorated with yellow and black patterns, and some have small yellow and black dots on their bodies.

Bubble B have been having lots of fun developing their balance, coordination and challenging themselves in the garden

Bubble A have been very busy making a huge castle to play in, making channels for the water to travel through and tending to our vegetable garden.

Bubble Z have been very busy this week creating tangram puzzles, writing adventure stories and doing character descriptions. The weather has not been kind to us this week but we managed to get outside and have a game of rounders and do some track running

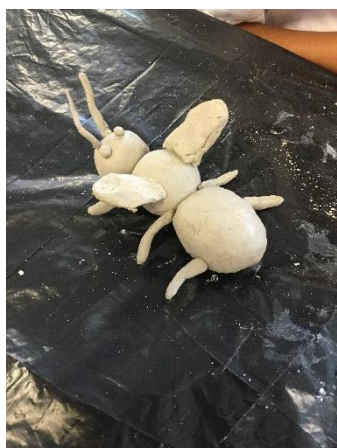

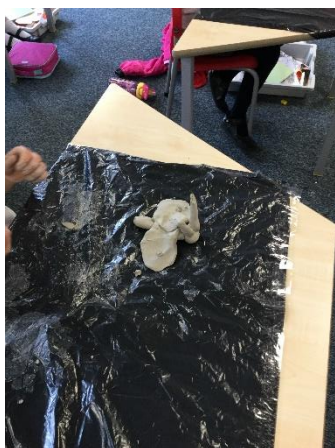

Bubble 1 have had another great week in school. We have had some fantastic news about our entry in the Northamptonshire Virtual School Games where we did standing jumps and distance throwing to a target – Loatlands came 1st!! Congratulations to all the children in Bubble 1 and the other Loatlands Bubbles that participated. I know Mrs Johnson is very proud of the school's achievements.

Bubble 3 are painting beehives and growing beans!

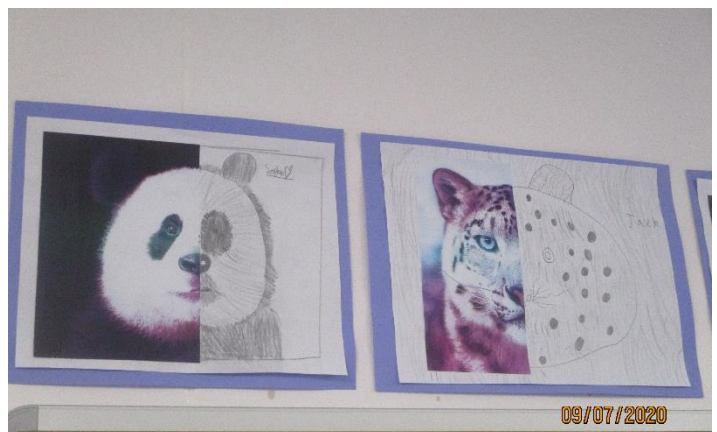

We have had so much fun learning about bees this week in Bubble 4. We have made masks, hives and clay models. We also met a new friend Gary! He is a snail who the children have adopted as a class pet. He lives outside our classroom, but they have enjoyed making him a house, following his trail on the path and finding him when he has been playing hide and seek! We even made some friends for Gary using the clay, so we now have Larry, Harry and Barry.

Bubble Y have enjoyed learning all about different endangered animals this week and have explored the use of sketching and shading to complete their animal portraits!
