

Dear Parents

Your children have settled really well into Year One; they are now able to follow the routines very well.

We've reviewed our weekly book changing system and as a result we would like to make one small change that will now allow us to hear your child read individually with a teacher each week. We also do group reading throughout the week but this individual reading slot will be a lovely opportunity for some special time for us to get to know your children.

Your child already puts their book bag in a coloured group box in the classroom. They will continue to do this so their routine will not change. We will change all of the books in one book bag box once a week and hear the children read at the same time. Your child will select three books of the appropriate level themselves at this time to read for the rest of the week.

In a few weeks' time they will also bring home a library book to keep for the week to be shared with you.

These are the days that the groups will change their books:

Monday = red book bag box

Tuesday = green book bag box

Wednesday = yellow book bag box

Thursday = blue book bag box

Friday = purple book bag box

Thank you for your continued support.
